

May 17th, 2020

Hello again:

Summer will soon be upon us and Governor Wolf has announced that on May 22nd, Wayne County will move from a “Red” County to a “Yellow” County, which basically removes the Stay-at-Home order and allows residents to have somewhat more freedom to leave their home. While the Stay-at-Home order is lifted, the restrictions still do not allow the Beach, Pavilion, or Playground areas to reopen. However, the hiking trail and lake are open, with social distancing restrictions in place.

With the summer season starting, our Association will have an increase in transitory movements of Members from many areas which are still under the stay-at-home restrictions. This may increase the risk of the spread of this disease. While everyone has their own opinion of how and what should be done, we must abide by the Governor's plan and be vigilant in abiding by the social distancing and restrictions concerning congregation of groups.

I am asking that all Members be courteous to each other and respect their well-being, by following the guidelines provided by our health officials. When walking/hiking, move to the side, allowing people to pass. Give others necessary space to access the lake via the boat basin docks. Refrain from touching surfaces, and avoid any type of congregating, especially with those who are not part of your household. A link to the latest guidelines for PA recreations can be found on the home page of the PLA Website.

While this pandemic has altered the way that we socially interact, we have a magnificent community which can bring great joy, even in solitude. Be safe, be vigilant, and respect others.

Thanks, and enjoy your summer.

Al Grabon, President, PLA
